

NEW CORPORATE OFFICES

Kuehne is proud to announce the grand opening of our new Corporate Offices. The ribbon cutting took place on October 3, 2018 with the ownership, Board of Directors, employees, suppliers, and other distinguished guests in attendance. The former offices were damaged in 2012 by Hurricane Sandy. Since then our Engineering team has been working tirelessly, and with a bit of nudging from Ronda Kuehne, to replace it with a modern, efficient and professional work space.

The new office has been carefully designed by paying attention to every single detail. The exterior siding and interior wall colorations were chosen to match the new Brine to Bleach facility. The floor and bathroom walls were covered with ceramic tiles, not only for their professional appearance but also for ease cleaning and maintenance. The main feature is the state of the art conference room, with a 25' glass wall and a custom-made table that sits comfortably 15 people.

Kuehne is proud of the efforts of many to provide our administrative team with a pleasant space they could call a second home. All this was possible with the collective effort and expertise of the personnel that participated in this project. Let us together, after 100 years of service, keep on innovating and Building Success Together.
